Eerie Weekend in Los Angeles Suburb

By DON MILLER

VIEWING THE City of Angels at night from the air is an experience that always seems to instill a kind of awe in an airline passenger.

The vastness of Los Angeles alone probably accounts for this for the tableau of lights that glitters below as his plane dips down for a runway approach stretches seemingly forever into the horizon.

Friday night as the jet I was aboard banked for its approach to Los Angeles International Airport, this tableau had an unfamiliar scar — towers of black smoke and dancing fingers of flame.

Almost as one, the more than 100 passengers strained for a better look out the windows. We had all read the news accounts of the rioting in Los Angeles and now, suddenly, we were sitting in an aerial grandstand, viewing the destruction below.

IT WAS AN eerie, foreboding beginning to a weekend that had been planned as two days of fun and sun at the beach.

My destination was Manhattan Beach, one of several, densely populated seaside resorts, separately incorporated, that hug a curve of Santa Monica Bay.

The northeast corner of Manhattan Beach is near the southern limits of the curfew area imposed during the rioting.

As such, the people of Manhattan Beach were acutely aware that their area could be next on the rioters' itinerary.

However, they reacted to this realization in a variety of ways.

Some went about their fun and frolicking —the main order of business in any resort area—without interruption.

The wisecracks about the rioting came in a steady stream in the taverns, the nightclubs, the restaurants and at the usual weekend house parties.

Although the rioting was only a fast drive away — and everyone knew the rioters had wheels — this didn't seem to faze the true partygoers. They were in Manhattan Beach to forget the troubles of the world — whether those troubles were in Viet Nam or in their own back yard.

OTHERS, HOWEVER, reacted with unabashed concern. They watched television sets with rigid interest and because television was providing almost continuous and at times on-the-scene helicopter coverage of the riots, the seriousness of the situation was magnified to them.

At some gatherings in private homes, as news reports indicated an ever-widening scope of the rioters' wrath, visitors called their families — either to assure themselves their loved ones were not in danger or to tell them they had decided to stay overnight at the invitation of their hosts rather than chance driving near the riot area to reach home.

NEW GROUP URGED

Negro Leader Says It Could Occur in D.C.

A rising Negro population may place Daly City in the position someday of becoming "another Los Angeles" if steps aren't taken to improve communications between the Negro community and the rest of the city, a top Daly City Negro leader warned yesterday.

The Rev. Howard Bryant, pastor of the Second Baptist Church and the president of the new inter-racial Community Inter-Action Through You (C.I.T.Y.) group, charged that "there is not much communication among city officials and ethnic groups."

Commenting on the Los Angeles riots and what effect, if any, they might have on the Negro community in Daly City, Rev. Bryant declared:

"I feel that every city in the state of California and the nation potentially may be another Los Angeles if a better mode of communication among the various ethnic groups is not established."

The minister said that a private survey by a group of what he termed "professional people" has indicated that Daly City's Negro population has grown from a census figure of 450 in 1960 to 12,000 today.

(A 1964 estimate by the San Mateo County Health Department listed a total of 13,500 Negroes living throughout the county.)

Reverend Bryant said that a "spillover" of Negroes into Daly City from San Francisco is creating serious housing problems.

He charged that the area roughly bounded by Mission Street, Peoria Street, Wellington Avenue and the San Francisco boundary "is fast becoming a ghetto. Minority groups are being crowded into this area."

He noted that in one recent week, 12 "for sale" signs were posted on houses on Bellevue Avenue, which is within the area. "This is an indication this will be a ghetto."

Reverend Bryant recalled that when fighting with racial overtones broke out at Jefferson High School last February, two human relations experts subsequently said that Daly City was in a unique position to benefit from the racial problems and solutions that had been experienced in other areas.

He said he had received reports of police brutality but that after a thorough investigation, found the charges were not valid.

"Nevertheless," he observed, "these are the kind of reports

A total of $800 in cash has already been distributed to eight winners in The Post-Times Lucky License contest, now entering its second week.

An estimated 4,000 Lucky License bumper strips are in evidence on contestants' vehicles throughout San Mateo County.

The only requirement to play Lucky License is to display "The Times" orange and black banner on the rear bumper of the family vehicle.

Each day, a mystery photographer roams throughout the county, selecting one auto to photograph as the winner of the day.

The photo of the car's license plate is then published in the San Mateo Times, parent publication of The Post, and the owner of

D.C. Okays Moratorium On Zonings

A moratorium has been established on all re-zoning requests for a large area of Daly City until the city completes an overall study of the region.

The area is bounded by Mission Street, Junipero Serra Boulevard, Jefferson High School and the San Francisco boundary line.

The area includes 155 homes that will be removed to make way for construction of a Bay Area Rapid Transit District station near the future interchange

Crossing in Sharp Park Is Sought

Pacific City Council last week adopted a resolution to request the State Division of Highways to build a pedestrian overcrossing in Sharp Park, at the intersection of San Jose Avenue and the freeway.

The council asked that the construction be done on a "share basis" with the city contributing $10,000 to the construction costs.

In other action, the council adopted a policy allowing the staff to make approval of substandard building sites, if the sites are in a safe area and if the owner can make no further arrangements for improvement. This permit would lead to construction.

The council also adopted an ordinance regulating horse-

$150,000 VALUE?

Gold Is Stolen At S.S.F. Firm

A thief stole 95 pounds of gold from the acid tank of a South San Francisco smelting and refining factory Thursday night, escaping with loot worth $49,000 — or as much as $150,000 — depending on where it is sold, possibly on the international black market.

Police say the culprit crawled under a chain-link fence at the Wildberg Bros. Smelting and Refining Plant, 349 Oyster Point Road, while the watchman made his rounds.

The thief lifted golden "anodes" from 19 silver hooks over a well-lighted electrolytic tank full of hydrochloride acid, and disappeared.

He must have used rubber gloves, and knew what he was doing, company officials said.

Company officials told police there was "some danger" involved in the theft, because of the high temperatures of the acid and because of the amounts of electricity employed.

They estimated the total weight of the missing gold as Growing pains will eventually burst the seams of the cloak known as "usable land," South San Francisco city councilmen learned Monday night as appeals came to them for development of property deep in the Bay and high on the neighboring hill.

Three projects to fill the tidelands on the shores of Oyster Point were approved, ranging up to 70 acres in size; and a home development of similar size was approved for San Bruno Mountain.

Newest of the proposals is the 22½-acre site on Brisbane and

JESD Picks 2 Top Aides; Snafu Ended

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District last week appointed Frank L. Greenwood district superintendent, ending a legal snarl that had tied trustees' hands in hiring a new top administrator.

Greenwood has been the superintendent of the Lowell Joint School District in Whittier for the past four years. He will take up his new post officially September 1 at an annual salary of $22,500 but will serve until then on a daily basis.

Trustees also appointed an assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs. He is Roger Barthuli, at present business assistant and financial advisor to the Ventura County School system.

Barthuli's appointment was made effective October 1. His salary will be $17,700 a year.

The two appointments came in the wake of the resignations of Dr. Richard L. Foster as superintendent and Dr. David Shapiro as assistant superintendent.

Both men have accepted the same positions with the new San Ramon Unified School District in Contra Costa County.

Foster's resignation, however, had been the subject of a legal tug-of-war in the past two weeks.

He stepped down from his post May 26, asking that his resignation be made effective at the end of a vacation period in October. The board accepted the resignation, which was subsequently approved by the county schools office.

Later, however, Asst. District

Greenwood Outlines a Broad Plan

By BERENICE PALMER

"I have been around here a month and it is about time I earned my keep."

With this statement, Frank Greenwood, the newly appointed superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District, launched a series of proposals for the District at a meeting of the Board of Trustees Monday night.

Greenwood asked for and received authorization for studies of all his proposals.

Re-establishment of a summer school program was his first request. He cited the need for corrective classes, developmental classes (grades 1-3), supplementary classes for all students from grades 1-7, special abilities classes and remedial reading and arithmetic classes.

These all would encompass a total pupil enrollment of about 3,000 youngsters. All but $8,000 of a $60,000 cost would be paid for by the state, he said.

Greenwood is acting as a consultant until he officially assumes his office in September.

He discussed the need for a program for the educationally handicapped who need separate

D.A. Aide Rules On Unification Technicality

Another formal public hearing must be held before a once-rejected proposal to unify the Laguna Salada School District within its own boundaries can be submitted again to the State Board of education.

This is the ruling handed down by the Asst. District Atty. Lois Scampini, according to A. H. Glantz, deputy secretary of the San Mateo County Committee on School District Organization.

The committee had proposed to resubmit the proposal to the state after failing last month to approve a plan that would unify Laguna Salada with the South San Francisco School District.

The old proposal to unify Lagun Salada within itself would be part of an over-all North County unification plan that also would unify the elementary districts of Brisbane, Jefferson and Bayshore.

This plan was turned down by the state board last November. The plan would have split the Jefferson High School District. The state board, in general, has turned down proposals through-

Marin School Aide Praises Foster Role

Dr. Richard L. Foster, former superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District, was credited last week with playing a key role in the development of a racial integration plan for the Sausalito Elementary School District.

The district's board of trustees unanimously approved the plan, which involves transporting about 180 students to achieve a racial balance in the district's four schools.

Foster headed a three-man team of educators in preparing the plan. The team included Dr. David Shapiro, assistant superintendent in charge of business affairs for the Jefferson district and Dr. Virgil Hollis, Marin County schools superintendent.

Foster is now the superintendent of the San Ramon Unified School District in Contra Costa County. Shapiro has resigned his Jefferson post, effective September 1, and will become Foster's assistant at that time.

Kenneth Lowry, acting superintendent of the Sausalito district, praised Dr. Foster's work in preparing the integration plan.

"We thought he did a magnificent job," Lowry commented.

The three-man team also studied the district's facilities and recommended a $1-million bond

ONE WAY to beat last week's heat was to submerge it. At least, that was the modus operandi of a group of Daly City teen-agers who spent Saturday at an outing at Lake Temescal in Oakland. Here, five members on the outing perform a synchronized (sort of) underwater headstand for Post-Times Photographer Bill Koska. N.Y. Stock Prices Are Now Listed

Complete closing stock quotations from the New York Stock Exchange are now a regular weekday feature in The San Mateo Times, parent publication of the Post.

Closing stock market prices from Associated Press are flashed from the floor of the exchange to The Times' composing room via tape in a matter of 10 minutes.

The tape is then fed into The Times' automatic linecasting machines, type is set and placed in pages, locked up and readied for the press within minutes.

Within half an hour from the time the final stock tables are received, the presses roll and editions are on their way to subscribers throughout the county.

The high-speed transmission of stock prices is made possible through an automatic computer capable of making 600,000 decisions a minute from a "memory" storage of 20 million characters of data, according to Publisher J. Hart Clinton.

The computer prepares transmission tape of the full 1570 issues of the New York exchange in 3½ minutes and begins transmission within 15 seconds after the close of the trading.

"The great speed of the system will enable The Times to keep its readers abreast of the rapidly changing prices while stock markets and other finacial centers are still open," Clinton related.

He termed the addition of the complete closing stock prices as another in a series of innovations that have helped establish The Times as the San Francisco Peninsula's leading afternoon newspaper.

JESD Appoints Two Chief Aides

Atty. Lois Scampini ruled that a resignation could not be submitted in one fiscal year and made effective in the following fiscal year. The district's fiscal year ends June 30.

Acting on Miss Scampini's advice, the district then wrote Foster, asking him to report for work August 2.

If, however, he elected to remain with his new job in the San Ramon district, Jefferson could then consider the old contract it had with Foster "breached" and would be legally free to hire a new superintendent, Miss Scampini ruled.

Foster did not report for work August 2 but instead appeared at a board meeting that night and charged that the board was trying to evade the terms of his resignation agreement.

In its letter to him, the board said it would pay him for a vacation June 28 to July 30 if he elected to remain with San Ramon.

At stake in the controversy is $4,500 — the difference in vacation pay that Foster would have received under the terms of his resignation in May and the June 28 to July 30 vacation pay.

Last week, the board approved a final payment to Foster, which included vacation pay for the June 28 to July 30 period.

In a letter accompanying the payment, the board reiterated the opinion set down by Miss Scampini and said that the board considered the old contract "breached."

Previously, Foster, informed that the board considered the old contract terminated, said that he would "pursue" the matter but declined to say anything further. He said he would consult with his attorney.

Greenwood, Foster's successor, was hired by the board August 2 as a special consultant until the legal tangle over the superintendent's chair was resolved.

His appointment as Jefferson's new top administrative officer was made effective September 1 instead of immediately because he will be "on vacation" from the Lowell Joint School District until that time.

The board's action in hiring Barthuli, 45, as assistant superintendent will bring together two men who had worked together in similar roles with the Scandinavian School District in Fresno County.

Barthuli has been with the Ventura County School system for the past five years.

He will finish work with the system this week and take up his Jefferson duties full-time Monday. He also will be "on vacation" from the Ventura system until his official starting date with Jefferson October 1.

Like Greenwood, Barthuli also is a former World War II pilot. He graduated from Fresno State College and obtained his master's degree from the University of Southern California.

out the state that would split high school districts.

Miss Scampini said the adoption of the old proposal to unify Laguna Salada as one district and to unify the other three elementary districts as another district must be considered a new tentative recommendation.

The county committee had hoped to conduct an informal public hearing in the Laguna Salada District before taking a final vote on resubmitting the previously rejected plan.

The committee will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the San Mateo Union High School District board room to discuss Miss Scampini's ruling and unification plans affecting other parts of the county.

Sunset said no garbage would be used in the fill, although the waterland is adjacent to a garbage dump site they are preparing in Brisbane. The scavengers' spokesmen said the property would be developed as an industrial site, with fresh, clean earth from the hill at Candlestick Point.

A second such operation was approved nearby for Healy-Tibbets, which has been planning expansion north of the South San Francisco Rod and Gun Club for several months. A third one, also in the works for months, gave permission to Cabot, Cabot & Forbes to fill 70 acres of tidelands on the easterly tip of the Point.

issue to renovate the district's four schools and to construct a fifth school.

The team's work took 30 days and involved evenings and weekends because the educators held administrative jobs during the day, Lowry pointed out.

He added he expected that Foster would receive "widespread recognition" for the work he did.

The integration plan calls for transporting all kindergarten pupils to one school, all first grade pupils to another school, all second and third grade pupils to a third school and pupils in the fourth through eighth grades to the district's fourth school.

Gold Is Stolen At S.S.F. Firm

1,400 troy ounces, collected after a week-long refining process.

At $35 per ounce, U. S., the loot is worth $49,000. It is worth perhaps three times that much, or more, smuggled out of the country and sold on the black market. Officially, foreign prices are around $37.50 per ounce.

"That would be the most likely way to dispose of it," one company officer said. "It would be worth $150 per ounce in Red China."

Police said Secret Service agents had been notified, but had not determined whether a federal crime had been committed.

This would depend on the state of purity of the gold, a spokesman said.

Secret Service men said they did not believe this crime would tie in with two recent gold burglaries in Los Angeles, or with a gold-laden truck hijacking in Detroit.

South San Francisco police said they tracked the thief back to the fence by the trail of acid dripping from the treasure.

Officers Don Osterman and Robert Walker admitted they had found at least one footprint at the edge of an adjacent field.

They said the burglar had obviously pulled the fence up from the bottom edge, and had wired it in this position, in order to crawl under.

They would not say whether they had any other clues, but admitted they were thinking in terms of one man.

"One man could manage 95 pounds of gold," said one officer, "If he was fairly strong."

They also agreed that the thief must have been familiar with the gold refining process, but said that did not mean he would have to be familiar with the Wildberg plant.

The theft was discovered at 10:20 p.m. as the company's watchman completed his rounds of the half-dozen scruffy buildings within the sloping enclosure. It is part of the watchman's job to count the anodes hanging from the silver hooks each time he passes.

Company spokesmen said the missing metal included several pieces, with the largest possibly measuring 4 inches thick, 6 inches wide, and 14 inches long. Others could be as slim as a pencil.

Each bar is one of a group of deposits of the precious metal, collected by the action of electricity through a current-conducting liquid.

With electricity moving through it in the opposite direction, the tank would serve as a plating machine, instead of a collector.

Officials said the tank could be compared with an ordinary automobile storage battery or wet cell, except that the metals and solutions are different, and electricity is put in, instead of being taken out.

Company officers said the gold is collected by hanging thin sheets of pure gold from the silver hooks, and drawing electric current through the gold-bearing acid solution. There may have been more than one golden sheet, layered with spongy deposits of pure gold, on each silver hook, they said.

"It could easily be sold as is," they admitted, "or it could be melted down into an ingot, such as they store at Fort Knox."

instructions from that of the the mentally retarded.

A cost of $1,000 per pupil, he said, would be close to the amount the state would reimburse.

Greenwood also brought out the need for a resource teacher who would offer enrichment studies to the mentally gifted and also act as a remedial teacher.

At this point, Trustee Peter Galiano remarked that it was refreshing to spend some time for a change at a board meeting talking about education.

Greenwood also recommended that a cafeteria program for all schools should be put into effect as soon as possible.

He advised further training of maintenance men and described how custodial costs could be lessened if outside help were not needed.

Further recommendations included a proposal for a new warehouse.

Greenwood described the need for a new administrative training program and trustees agreed that one of the district's most important jobs is personnel evaluation.

At the conclusion of Greenwood's suggestions, Michael Pennings, representing the Jefferson Classroom Teachers' Association, echoed the sentiments of teachers when he stated:

"It is very pleasant when the teachers are talking to the board on the matter of curriculum."

An Eerie L.A. Weekend

Beach, residents noticed a police car stationed there throughout the day and night—something never seen before. It was the officers' job to report the first sign of any invasion of rioters.

Later in the weekend, two National Guardsmen also took up positions near the intersection and as the weekend wore on, guardsmen and their jeeps passing through the area became a common occurrence.

SATURDAY NIGHT, when the rumors seemed to be outrunning fact, I joined my hosts and a party of friends for dinner at a popular neighborhood restaurant.

The usual combo was playing in the bar but the atmosphere had a strange tenseness.

As we sat at our table, I noticed a number of patrons glance nervously every now and then at the open entrance door.

It was apparent they were worried that a carload of rioters could careen by and hurl a Molotov cocktail inside in the same manner that hundreds of stores and homes had been set afire in the riot area.

Later in the evening, although nobody came right out and said so, there was a distinct reluctance to turn in for the night.

Left unsaid was the belief that it was better to be awake and alert if the rioting should come our way as, indeed, one stubborn rumor said it would.

BUT THE NIGHT passed without incident and a big, orange summer sun slipped up over the horizon Sunday morning to bring a feeling of relief to the people of Manhattan Beach.

That evening, as the jet left the airport runway behind, I glanced out at the lights of the City of Angels and saw that the smoke was largely gone and the dancing fingers had quieted down.

It was the end of an incredible weekend — spent in a town noted for its informality and casual living—a state of being, perhaps, that made the weekend's events even more incredible than they were.

you get when you do not have good communication in the community."

The minister called for the establishment of a human relations board that would represent all walks of life in Daly city.

This board, he remarked, could help prevent "a number of problems that arise with the influx of minority groups into Daly City."

He said he planned to ask Mayor Francis Pacelli to call a conference among city officials and the executive board of his City Group which, he said had broad representation from throughout Daly City....

Mayor Pacelli could not be reached immediately for comment on Reverend Bryant's remarks.

After the riots in Rochester, N.Y., last year, the conscensus of opinion among city officials and community leaders was that racial trouble in Daly City was possible but not probable.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi, who was serving then as mayor, noted at the time:

"We're (the council) aware of the national problem and we're aware that it could happen here. When and if anything happens here, we'll take the necessary steps."

S.S.F. Man Suspect in R.C. Holdup

A South San Francisco man, a bullet wound in his right leg, has been apprehended as the second suspect in the holdup early Thursday of Pato's Grocery in Redwood City.

Police Capt. George Bold said the suspect, Michael John Myers, 23, was arrested by San Francisco police.

Myers was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital for treatment of the bullet wound. Bold said the suspect apparently shot himself accidentally with a .22-caliber pistol while fleeing police at the scene of the holdup.

San Francisco police Thursday received a tip from an informant that a man who had taken part in a Peninsula holdup was wandering about the Mission District with a bullet wound in his leg.

Officers began checking and finally found Myers in a car with a girl friend, Bold reported.

The suspect was to be turned over to Redwood City police and charged with armed robbery, the captain said.

Witnesses have identified Myers' photograph, and the clothing he was wearing tallies with that of one of the suspects in the grocery holdup, Bold stated.

The sound of a "pop" heard by one of the witnesses when the two robbers ran off from the store as police arrived apparently was Myers' gun firing, the captain said.

Previously arrested and charged with armed robbery in the holdup was Leslie Howard Hill, 25, of San Francisco.

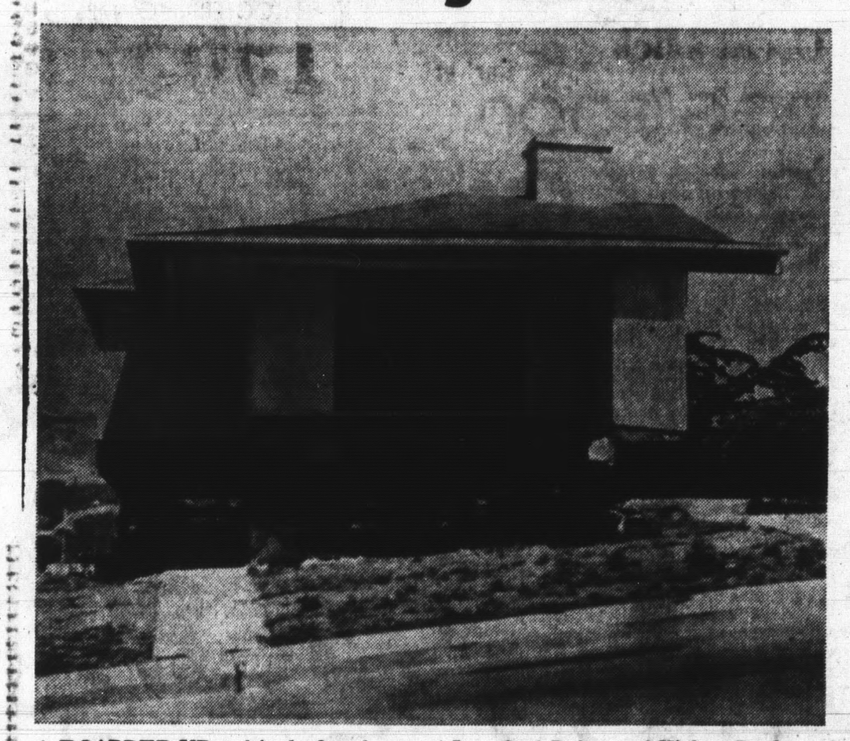
CD Briefing Is Scheduled

A top-level civil defense and disaster briefing will be offered leading citizens of San Mateo County Thursday, September 9, at the San Mateo Elks Club.

Heading the briefing team will be Air Marshal C. R. Dunlap of the Canadian Air Force.

He will describe NORAD's combat operations center deep inside Colorado's Cheyenne Mountain.

Traveling House



A BOARDED-UP and jacked-up home at Longford Drive and Hickey Boulevard in the Winston Manor subdivision of South San Francisco stands ready to be hauled away to a new site by house movers. The house is one of a number of homes that must be removed to make way for the extension of Hickey Boulevard westward. To date, three houses have been re-located. (Post-Times Photo)

D.C. Woman Is Injured

A Daly City woman was admitted to satisfactory condition in Kaiser Hospital, South San Francisco, following a three-car accident Saturday morning.

Corrine Cox, 19, 144 Bepler Street, had been driving down El Camino Real in San Bruno when her car collided with three parked autos at the Taylor Street intersection.

She was treated for a scalp injury, police said.

Family Flees Pacifica Fire

A Pacifica woman who thought she heard an alarm clock go off in her home, investigated a bedroom and found smoke curling out of a closet last Wednesday night. The alarm was set off by an old model fire alarm.

Mrs. Loraine Walitsch, 529 Paloma Avenue, took her four-year-old daughter to a neighbor's house and called the fire department.

Fire officials said the smoke and fire damage was limited to the closet area and the cause was undetermined. Ten firemen arrived on the scene and extinguished the flames.

Greenery Loses to Concrete

No! That Isn't Snow!

No! That isn't a snow bank you see along the embankment (above) on the west side of Fairway Drive in Daly City.

It's a white sealing compound applied to concrete that was sprayed on the embankment, ending the city's longtime effort to keep the embankment landscaped.

The white will ultimately fade, according to City Engineer Arthur Reschke. It was applied to keep moisture out of the concrete.

The concrete, in turn, had been applied with a method known as "guniting." Under this method, wet concrete is sprayed on an area and then allowed to harden.

Reschke said the city had been plagued by youngsters climbing over shrubs and other greenery planted along the embankment.

He said the City Council reluctantly decided to end the high costs of maintaining the landscaping by covering the area with concrete.

Cost of "guniting" the area was $4,500. An additional $2,500 was spent for a stairway at about the midpoint of the embankment, which will allow residents to walk to nearby Westlake Shopping Center without taking a previous circuitous route.

Reschke said the change in the embankment will result in a savings to the taxpayer in the long run.

Ex-Teacher Found Guilty After Trial

South San Francisco ex-schoolteacher Donald Wheelhouse last week was convicted of stealing a carton of cigarettes.

A jury reached its verdict of guilty of petty theft at 11:15 p.m., after an all-day trial Wednesday in Judge F. Jose de Larios' North County Judicial District Court.

Wheelhouse had never denied taking the $2.37 carton from the Purity Market on Linden Avenue, April 23, but had denied that he intended to steal them.

Judge De Larios referred the case to the county adult probation office for review, and scheduled Wheelhouse to return to court September 14 for sentencing.

Greyhound Hikes Area Bus Fares

Bus price increases ranging from 20 to 44 per cent on Greyhound Lines' Peninsula commuter runs were approved last week by the California Public Utilities Commission.

The higher fares go into effect August 27.

Twenty-ride commute books between San Francisco and points in San Mateo and Santa Clara Counties will go up $2 a book on rides of more than eight miles.

The increase will be $1.60 a book on routes less than eight miles from San Francisco.

Here is the new fare schedule in dollars:

Between San Francisco and	Miles	Present Commute Book	Authorized Commute Book
Bayshore	7	4.00	5.60

Coast Search Abandoned

A Coast Guard helicopter searched the coastline off Sharp's Park beach in Pacifica for an hour early Friday afternoon in quest of a swimmer reportedly pulled out to sea by the tides.

After an extended search, the Coast Guard, Pacifica police and firemen gave up.

By LE PACINI

PACIFICA residents, with a simple Saturday trip or two to San Francisco's famed Big Rec baseball diamonds in Golden Gate Park, may let themselves in on a rare metamorphosis.

Fisher Realty (this year's Terra Nova High School Club) is climbing out of its cocoon and may be flying by summer's end.

What the boys are doing, under Tiger baseball Coach Al Figone, are (at this writing) going undefeated in one of the toughest kids' baseball leagues in the Bay Area.

They have played to one tie (with what amounts to the Jefferson High squad), but lost that one only with a late inning piece of Brooklyn Dodger baserunning. That was in early season and there haven't been many mistakes since.

None of this would be worth writing about if the Tiger varsity baseball team hadn't lost all of its games in the past North Peninsula League season. What Figone (who is donating his time strictly out of interest in youth baseball) has done has been to take virtually the identical winless team and, minus a few graduating seniors which he's replaced with frosh-soph squad members, made winners of them.

He says he's made no miracles. All he's done has made the boys play ball as much as possible and play together. He feels that unity is one of the most important factors in winning in high school athletics and he may be proving it.

OF COURSE, things could go wrong. For instance, we've keen known to jinx people by writing about them. By the time this is printed, Fisher Realty may have lost two or three games.

But that's not the point. The point is that Figone has managed to bring his club into a condition of contention and has instilled in the players the winning spirit, not the losing habit, an area we've discussed several times in this column. If there's a carryover, the rest of the NPL had better take cover in '66.

Other North County teams in the league are Allied Cleaners (El Camino) and Minucciani Realty (South City).

A Daly City neighbor of Figone's, former Mission High and San Francisco Seal pitcher Lloyd Dickey, is not faring so well with Flying Goose (Mission High), which, at this writing, has yet to win a game.

Other clubs in the league are New Pisa Blues (Poly), Cosmos Market (Lincoln), Flying Goose (Wilson), Meyers Safety Switch, and Pall Mall (Balboa).

While still on the subject of youth baseball, Johnny Pantolean, former Mission High, San Francisco City College and semi-pro star, raises an interesting question — on what we suppose — you might call baseball morality.

Pantolean manages the Holy Trinity Church baseball team and a couple of weeks ago one of his most promising charges, 14-year-old control artist John Draneas, pitched a no-hitter against Enunciation and struck out 18 batters in the process. He also almost lost his no-hitter, in the process, because of one of baseball's rather illogical rules.

In a late inning, one of Enunciation's batters managed to finally hit one in the air (the three batters who didn't strike out grounded out). It was a routine pop fly to the shortstop. But not everything is routine with 14-year-old shortstops, and this one quite earnestly misjudged it, allowing it to fall on the infield for what baseball rules say must be termed a hit.

Now, in a professional game employing a professional scorer, there would have been no trouble. Official scorers are allowed much leeway in certain matters, especially when they pertain to tainted hits that spoil no-hitters. Scorers have been known to change rulings, for instance, on an early inning hit call when the pitcher has gone on to pitch flawless ball.

But the rules specifically state that when a ball is hit in the air and goes untouched by a fielder, that ball is called a hit, even if nine men misjudge it.

In the case of Draneas, an understanding umpire temporarily took charge as "official scorer," quelling a heated discussion, and declared the loose ball an error, saving the kid's greatest thrill for him.

Pantolean's bone of contention, though, is this: how often have you seen GROUND balls go so completely through an infielder's legs that he doesn't touch the ball? In that case, such batted balls are invariably called errors.

John wants to know what difference it makes, whether the ball is untouched on the ground or in the air. We think he has a valid point, but we don't know the answer.

After all, John, can you tell us why there are three outs in an inning?

JIM BOYETTE, former Terra Nova football star, president of the student body and all around success, recently added more to his scrapbook when he steered His Majesty's Ship Warrick around the cliffs of Dover. Don't worry. Jim did it legally. An Annapolis midshipman, he was serving temporary duty with the British Navy on an exchange program.

Remember, a few paragraphs back, about how we wrote we jinx people by writing about them. Couple weeks ago, we cited Alan Gallagher, Daly City resident, former Santa Clara Bronco and recent top Giant baseball draft choice, as hitting .300 for Tacoma in the Triple A Coast League.

He immediately went into a nosedive and was farmed to Springfield in the AA Eastern League — where he's hitting under .200. We hope our writing about Alan this time will work in reverse.

In the meantime, Westmoor's Bruce Hix, in the same league and like Gallagher a third baseman, has been hitting a steady .270, whacking an occasional long ball and producing runs. We hope we haven't ruined HIM, now.

A belated congratulations to Pacifica's Rockets, the first city soccer team, who won the Fourth of July Invitational Soccer match, defeating the Peninsula Soccer Football League.

FACTS 'N FIGURES: Juan Marichal has twice as many shutouts as the American League leader in that department. . . . the Giants have the third best team earned run average in baseball, behind the Dodgers and Baltimore. . . . Dick Brown and Dick Howser, both Cleveland shortstops, are running one-two among American League shortpatchers in fielding averages.

2 New Parks To Be Opened By Daly City

Two new play areas have been completed in Daly City—both situated in the city's Southern Hills area.

Both have been named for the streets on which they are situated, according to an announcement by the Daly City Recreation Department.

The play areas are Polaris Way Park, situated at 247 Polaris Way and Arden Court Park, situated at 2 Arden Court.

Polaris Way Park has two tanbark-covered play equipment areas with a paved area between them. Arden Court has a tennis court, a tanbark-covered play equipment area and a paved area for basketball and tetherball.

Contractor for both parks was O. C. Jones and Sons. The contract, for $17,645, also covered the resurfacing of Lincoln Park on Brunswick Street.

The two new play areas will be dedicated at 3 p.m. Saturday. The ceremony will be held at Polaris Way Park.

Members of the City Council, the Recreation Commission and the city's administrative staff have been invited.

The Recreation Department will serve punch and cookies. Balloons will be given to youngsters.

Mat Sessions Are Popular In Daly City

The Daly City Department of Recreation's open wrestling workouts Wednesday nights at the War Memorial Building are gaining momentum weekly, the department reports.

At a recent session, Jerry Pamp, a wrestler for the San Francisco Olympic Club and holder of national titles, worked out and demonstrated Greco-Romas wrestling to those in attendance.

The wrestling workouts are open to any high school boy interested in learning to wrestle or in improving his ability.

The group meets at the War Memorial Community Center Wednesday nights at 7.

Wrestlers are requested to bring suitable clothing for wrestling and tennis shoes that are not worn on the street. Showers are available, but towels must be provided by the individual. Further information may be obtained by calling the Recreation Department at PL 5-0850.

It Really Happened!

He didn't see it happen but fellow golfers said it did.

"It" was a hole-in-one carded by Bob Silicani of 353 C Street, South San Francisco, on the Cypress Hills Golf Course Saturday.

The ace came on the par four, 255-yard eighth hole. Silicani said he used a driver.

The ball soared over a tree, blocking his view of the green, and hit the tee, a foursome ahead of Silicani and fellow players reported.

He said he's been playing 20 years and the hole-in-one was his first. He's a gardner at the Lakeside Olympic Golf Course.

Examinations Are Planned

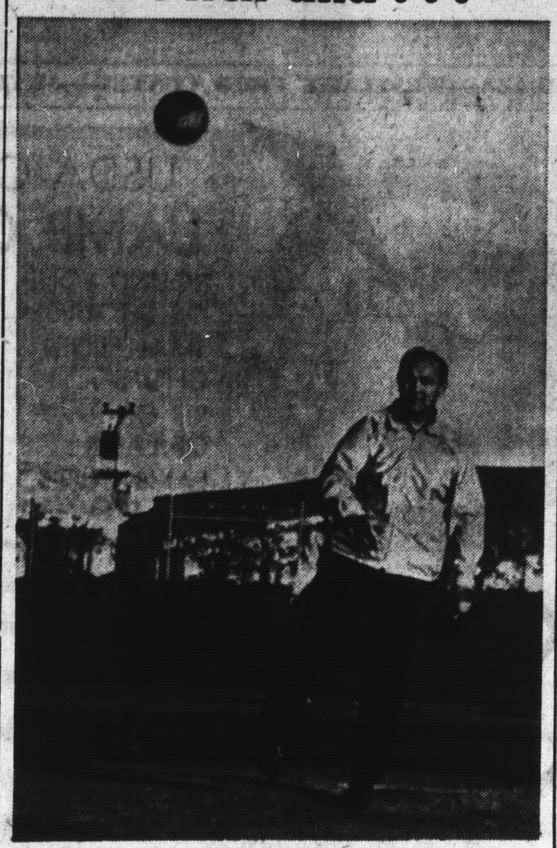
Pete Matisi, Westmoor High School football coach, announced this week that physicals for all incoming Westmoor students who plan to participate in the school's fall athletic program will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday, August 26, in the boys' gymnasium.

Further information may be obtained by calling Matisi at FI 5-1551.

N.J. JAYCEES SET GAME

PRINCETON, N.J. —The New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles will meet in Palmer Stadium here on August 28 in a pre-season exhibition football game sponsored by the New Jersey Jaycees. New Jersey charities will benefit.

A Pitch and . . .



MIKE ORLICH, Jefferson High School's athletic director, also doubles at what colleagues acknowledge is a pretty skillful lob ball player. Here, he lets loose a pitch for the DeMolays against the Animals in a game sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department. DeMolays won the contest, 8-5. (Post-Times Photo)

. . . a Swing

JOHNNIE GUZ of the DeMolays takes a hefty cut during a lob ball game with the Animals at Westlake Park. The DeMolays won the game, 8-5.

Results of Recreation Loop Games

Here is a roundup of results in summer sports leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department:

Adult Lob Ball

The Daly City Post Office team lost to the Daly City Sweatsox, 8 to 3, putting the Sweatsox in a tie for first place with the Animals. The DeMolays beat the Animals, 8 to 5.

High School Lob Ball

F.D.R.'s recorded two wins last week—over the Huck-du-Pods and Marchbanks. This keeps them in a tie for first place with the Gars.

Summer Midget Baseball

In the Marchbanks Division last week the Thomas Edison Dodgers beat the PAL Redsox, 4-1. Second baseman Tony La-Roca pitched a three-hitter and struck out eight.

Dennis Cormass registered seven putouts and made an over-the-head catch with the bases loaded for the third out.

In the Westlake Division, the PAL Tigers wiped out the PAL Cubs, 6-2. Jack Hasten and Len Hoffman combined their pitching talents to stop the Cubs. Dave Bias smashed a home run with one man on base.

D.C. Netter Wins Tourney

Daly City's Peter Lederer is the initial champion of the first annual Golden Gate Park Tennis club's singles tournament.

Lederer defeated James Garcia of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-3, to win the title.

In other action, Kathy Douglas, an 18-year-old veteran of the junior tennis wars, rallied for a victory over Helen Wong, 6-8, 6-4, 6-1, to win the women's title.

Game Ducats Are Awarded

Gary Rudolph of 265 Verano Drive, Daly City, won first prize of two box seats to the Giants-Dodgers game Sunday at Candlestick Park in the annual baseball drawing of the Better Youth Association (BYA) of Daly City.

Gary Citrino of 6139-A Mission Street, Mrs. Dorothy Fertedo of 86 Windsor Drive and Joseph Sarasua of 278 Los Olivos Avenue, all of Daly City, each won two reserved tickets to the game.

Long-Time Printer Is Dead at 79

William (Bill) Schimmele, a linotype operator for most of his 79 years, collapsed and died at the keyboard of a linotyep last week in the Post-Times composing room.

Schimmele, who worked part-time at his craft after his retirement in 1956, did not respond to resuscitation and was pronounced dead at Mills Hospital at 9:41 p.m.

He was The Post-Times' longest-service employe, joining the company in 1925. He lived at 808 Laurel Avenue, San Mateo.

Surviving are his wife, Grace; a son, Earl, of San Francisco; a daughter, Mrs. Louise Niederreiter, San Mateo; three sisters, Mrs. Frank Rose, Torrance; Mrs. William Gerdes, Fontana, and Mrs. Leo Cornell, Los Angeles, and six grandchildren.

Schimmele was born in Eau Claire, Wis., and got his first printing job in his home town as a combination printers' devil and janitor. He set type by hand and swept the floors in his spare time.

He later told friends that he "bummed" his way to Duluth, Minn., and went to work harvesting, then migrated west, seeing the country.

He got his first opportunity to operate a linotype machine at a Santa Ana paper. Schimmele joined the International Typographical Union in Los Angeles, and at the time of his death had been a continuous member for more than 50 years. He was a member of San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21.

He came to San Francisco in 1912, worked as a linotype operator for the old Morning Call and several printing establishments, then moved to Sacramento, where he was married.

In 1923, he went to work for the Daily News Leader in San Mateo. The News Leader merged with the San Mateo Times, and Schimmele joined the merged newspaper. At that time, the circulation was 2,000 and the paper was printed on a flatbed press in a building on Baldwin Avenue.

Funeral services were conducted from Patterson and O'Connell Chapel. Interment in Skylawn Memorial Park.

CASH STOLEN

Judy Spediacci of 26 North Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that $27 had been stolen from her wallet, left in clothes while she was at Thornton Beach.

Chamber Will Reorganize

The Pacifica Chamber of Commerce has undertaken a crash program of reorganizing the chamber's structure and activities.

Under the program, approved by the group's board of directors, the board will meet twice each month to consider revamping these chamber activity areas: projects, membership, publicity, business promotion, administration, ways and means and finance and budget.

The reorganization was proposed by Chamber President Stanley R. vander Hule who termed the move an "action program" for 1965-66.

Under the proposed reorganization, nine committees would be established: industrial and business development, chamber research, membership, projects, publicity and public relations, professional, governmental affairs, freeway-highway and real estate activities.

Proposed projects the chamber would sponsor include an annual citywide clean-up program (co-sponsored by other Pacifica organizations), the annual Miss Pacifica Pageant, and a promotional program to be held in each major area of the city, to be carried out in cooperation with merchants associations.

In other chamber business, John Overfield, manager, reported to directors that the chamber's Blue Book directory will cost about $3,000. Distribution was scheduled to begin last week.

Directors voted to donate a trophy to the fisherman who catches the largest (weight) bass in the city's Bass Derby.

The board denied a request from the National Fiesta Queen Association, requesting a Pacifica entry in a beauty contest.

The Real Man Of the Year

(Guest Editorial from The Chicago Tribune)

TODAY we present the real Man of the Year.

He was not picked by the Junior Association of Commerce, or by the Senior Association of Commerce, or by the politicians, or by any association of newspaper men. You won't find his picture in the papers. You may not recognize him as you pass him on the street. But we hope you do.

Our Man of the Year is in the middle income brackets. He gets up every morning at 6:30 so that he can get to his job in an office or factory at 8 or 8:30. He works hard, not only because he wants advancement, but because he thinks his employer deserves a fair deal. He is honest and dependable.

Our Man of the Year manages to get along with one wife. They have three or four children, whom they love so much they teach them to be respectful, law-abiding, and self-reliant. They have done their best to earn and save enough money to send their children to college, but the rising costs of higher education make this goal more difficult each year.

THE RISING COST of everything also makes it harder to put aside money for retirement. Recent federal income tax deductions have helped the people in high income brackets and low income brackets, but the man in the middle has got little benefit. There are no loop-holes in the income tax for him, and he can't put any money into tax-exempt securities.

Social security taxes, which started at $30 a year, are now up to $174. Now the medicare program will make them much higher. Local property taxes have doubled, and so have the various state taxes.

Worst of all, the purchasing power of the dollar is only 42 per cent of what it was when our Man of the Year bought his first insurance policy in 1937. The little money which he has set aside for a rainy day is worth about half of what it was when he earned it.

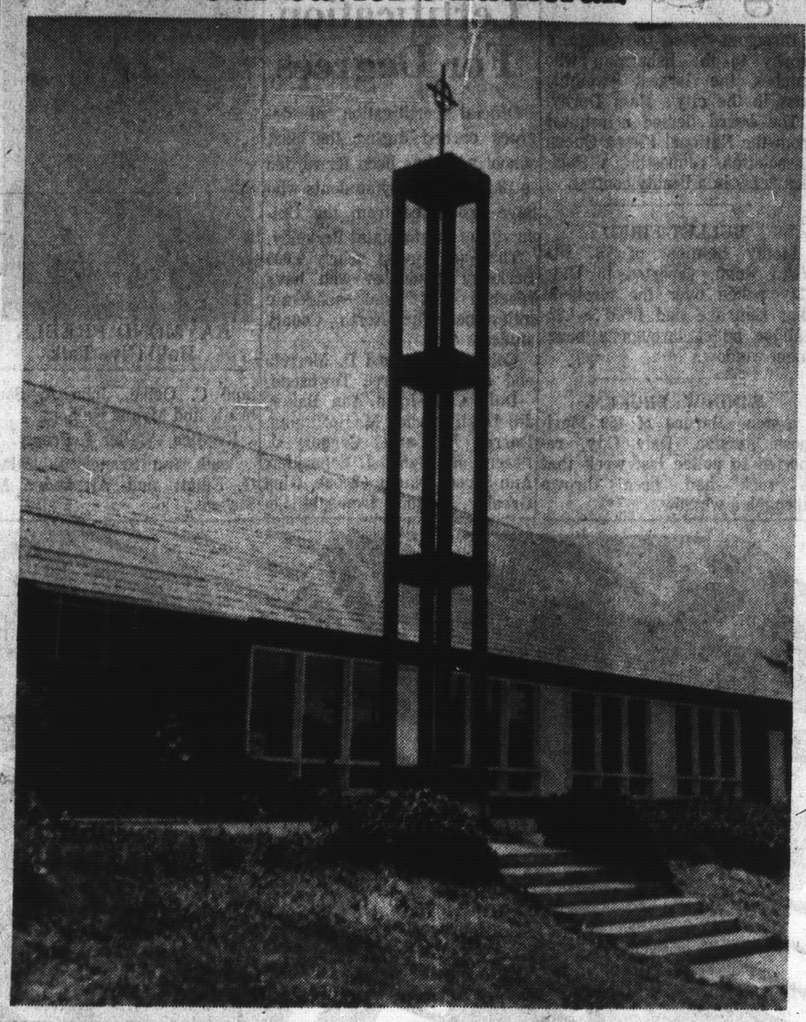
OUR MAN of the Year belongs to a church and works at his religion. He is no saint, but he understands the Biblical meaning of neighbor and tries to be decent to men of all races and creeds. You won't find him, however, in "civil disobedience" demonstrations. He believes laws ought to be enforced.

Our Man of the Year is not ashamed to be considered a patriot. He flies the flag on national holidays. He can't understand Americans who join organizations dedicated to the destruction of America. He can't understand legislators and judges who strive to undermine law and order, or to feather their own nests.

Our Man of the Year believes in our system of government. He votes at every election, but he votes only once.

For all his merits, we salute him.

Our Savior's Lutheran



OUR SAVIOR'S Lutheran Church was founded in Pacifica in December of 1955. In the first years, the congregation met in City Hall. The present sanctuary (above) was erected in 1958, just off the Coast Highway in the Rockaway Beach section. The founding pastor was the Rev. George Jacobsen. The present pastor is the Rev. Rodney Jensen who was called in February of this year. Other pastors who served Our Savior's included the Rev. Lester Zeitler, The Rev. Theodore Polster and an interim pastor, the Rev. Tobias Buehner. The congregation has about 150 members. (Post-Times Photo)

The Celestial Shenanigans

Don Miller

THE RAIN, in the main, stays mainly out of local enrivons when summer rolls around and because this is so, the natives were clearly disturbed by the meteorological shenanigans of last week.

That deluge that poured from North County skies was so unexpected that a great many folk had to do a bit of rummaging around before they turned up raingear they had stashed away last spring, comfortable in the belief that the pitter-patter on rooftops had ended its pleasant symphony for another eight or nine months.

But the real shocker of the week was not the rain but all that racket and short circuiting in the heavens that produced a truly remarkable celestial show — so unique to this area, in fact, that the weatherman spent a good portion of the day trying to vanquish the worries of the region's thunderstorm neophytes who flooded his office with calls.

Lyle Rasey, one of the forecasters at the U.S. Weather Bureau out at the airport and a gentleman who finds forecasting in this area a most stimulating challenge. says a considerable number of callers were young people who were genuinely alarmed by Jupiter Pluvius rattling the cymbals in the heavens and by the violent flashes of light.

Most of the callers had been raised in the Bay Area and had never been spectators to a real, old-fashioned, Midwest brand of electrical storm, the likes of which crackled over us last week.

"I just told most of the callers, 'my, isn't it exciting,' in trying to soothe their nerves," Rasey recalls. "I thought that by getting them excited about the weather they wouldn't be afraid."

WHY ARE THUNDERSTORMS such a rarity in the Bay Area, particularly in the summer when summer is the time of year they're in vogue in other parts of the nation? Rasey explains it all this way:

The prevailing weather pattern in the Bay Area during the summer is governed by a high pressure system, commonly referred to by forecasters as the Pacific High, which lolls around off the coastline.

It keeps a layer of warm, largely moisture-free air high in the heavens, acting as a lid upon a layer of cool, usually foggy air down below. This lower layer is generally about 2,000 feet high.

The fog we have in summer is produced by the air up high forcing warm air down over the cold ocean water off the coast. Mating of warm air and cold water produces fog.

The fog is carried in from the ocean by a breeze that is the result of the hot valley interior acting as a suction pump for cold air off the coast.

Sometimes, the sun gets good and uppity and hot or the Pacific High shifts a bit so the fog doesn't flow in and the result is a sparkling, clear day — a rarity along the Coast at this time of year.

This, then, is the status quo through the summer. The high pressure system tends to suppress any buildup of the towering, cumulus clouds that spawn thunderstorms.

WHAT, THEN, happened last week? Rasey has more answers:

A combination of a shifting of the Pacific High a bit to the West and a cantankerous young lady named Hurricane Claudia shoved an awful lot of warm moist air up our ways, permitting those beautiful and rarely seen clouds we saw last week to form ranks and crank out a good, old thunderstorm.

When it was over, the Bay Area was left with a totally mixed up atmosphere of fog, smog, warm and cool air — a meteorological mish-mash that resulted in the subsequent days of specatcular visibility and a mercury that found delight in hovering in the seventies.

Each time we get this kind of weather stew in the heavens, Rasey says, it takes a few days for the old pattern to re-establish itself —hence the opportunity to get a sun tan in the North County, which in the summer borders on magic-making.

NOW, OF COURSE, our weather is sliding down August into that time of year most of us relish — the Bay Area's REAL summer, a time when the mercury hits its loftiest marks of the year and the wind all but stops.

The reason it stops, Rasey explains, is that the inland valleys start to cool off as the days get shorter and the suction pump ceases to operate.

With the wind going into a swan song, the fog can't hitch a ride inland, the air becomes warmer and we all become reacquainted with beaches, back-yard barbecues and the welcome idea of stowing the windbreaker in the closet.

It's what Rasey calls an equalization of weather between coast and inland — a sort of truce that lasts until the days become even shorter and we start heading into winter and the rainy season.

Ironically, it's during winter time that the Bay Area is likely to see most of its meagre annual lightning and thunder. Because it's strictly of the pantywaist variety, most of it goes unnoticed.

It's only when a gal like Claudia gets rambunctious that we can expect the natives to get restless. In a meteorological way, that is.

Study Terms of Second Mortgage

Lorene Beasley

SHOULD a debt-ridden homeowner further obligate himself by putting a second mortgage on his property?

Homeowners across the country are finding this a very attractive method for getting relief from the burden of monthly payments on household appliances, furniture and automobiles.

"Consolidate Your Debts — Reduce Your Monthly Payments! Such alluring advertisements profess to offer the debt-ridden homeowner the easy way out of his financial problems.

"Consolidate your debts," he is advised, "'and reduce your monthly payments 50 per cent or more."

He is promised that the payments on the mortgage will be a lower payment than the total monthly payments required on his accumulated indebtedness.

IT IS POSSIBLE today to get second mortgage loans in amounts ranging from $500 to $10,000.

Do second mortgages (and some loan companies offer third and fourth mortgages) ease the financial pressures or do they shove the debt-ridden individual deeper into debt for a longer period of time?

Just what does the homeowner actually pay for this method of borrowing money?

He is further assured that the single loan secured by a second mortgage on his home, consolidating all of his indebtedness in one lump sum, can be paid off in low monthly installments over a period of three to five years.

Very often the interest rate on second mortgages is low. Assured by an interest rate within legal limitations, and without thoroughly investigating the second mortgage scheme, the unwary person signs the contract.

HE THEN DISCOVERS the additional fees he will have to pay. These so-called service fees can be so fantastic as to run up the total bill to twice the homeowner's original debts.

The Better Business Bureau has on file the case of a man who borrowed $2,500 to repay debts and ended up with payments totaling $4,968 he had contracted to pay over a period of five years.

The broker's "placement fee," the fee charged for bringing the borrower together with a lending institution, has been as high as $500 on a $1,000 mortgage. A New Jersey borrower, seeking $4,800, paid a placement fee of $3,900.

The second mortgage broker may require a deposit for investigating the homeowner's credit. The deposit can legally not be refunded if the loan application is turned down.

ADDITIONAL fees that may be legally included are appraisal fees, attorney's fees, fees for photographs, title searches, "preparation of instruments," insurance and closing costs.

These charges are not refunded or prorated if the borrower is able to pay off the entire loan.

The Better Business Bureau does not criticize substantial firms and individuals engaged in the business of making ethical second mortgage loans.

The Bureau does, however, warn the homeowner to investigate any contract thoroughly before signing or making a contract.

Contact your banker or your established Savings and Loan Company before signing any contract that sounds "too good to be true."

A reliable lending agency will be happy to go over your financial situation with you and give sound and constructive advice.

Tammy Is An Enigma

Barbara Bladen

IF TAMMY GRIMES can't describe her own voice, I'm going to give up trying to. We sat opposite each other at the luncheon table and I listened to every syllable carefully but finally came right out and asked her what it was.

"I was born in Boston but can't really define the accent either, but I notice it's turning a little Welsh these days."

Then I realized that this piquant actress with delicate features, long face with pointed chin and upturned nose with small mouth, is an enigma. No one can explain or understand her.

She'll talk on and on about some things and then for no reason take offense at other subjects. Not that she's temperamental but she has a sweetness, a shyness, almost a distrust, perhaps, only of the press. But she has a femininity that borders on frailty, an image not apparent in her stage portrayals.

HUDDLED UP in a cotton frock, looking like she just came from a dance rehearsal or from picking buttercups in the dell, in tousled hair and flat-heeled shoes, over which was a full length pastel mink coat, the star looks like a waif, albeit a Broadway waif.

There is no mistaking the star quality of some people. It follows them like a spotlight. Since her overnight success in "The Unsinkable Molly Brown" and subsequent triumph in "High Spirits" with Bea Lillie, the throaty singer has been labeled "a kook." I didn't see that in her. She appears to be anxious to do well in her roles and is as stagestruck as the rest of us.

"I'd love to be in a Western movie. I'm afraid of horses but I do ride well (she probably learned at Stephens College in Missouri, where she attended). My daughter Amanda arrives this week and we'll move to Malibu while I make a pilot for a television comedy series."

San Francisco was one of the cities she played during the 1,500 performances of "Molly Brown" with which she is credited. It holds fond memories for her, she remarked, because she spent her honeymoon here (a marriage since dissolved).

"What does it take to make it in the theater? Tenacity, luck and very good health. But I just love it during the summer when I can perform away from New York. Getting involved with a long run show is very tiring."

SHE CLAIMS not to have been heartbroken when Debbie Reynolds got the movie role which Tammy created on Broadway and insists that she never once yearned for a particular role. This doesn't seem possible for an actress, especially one so new to success as our current visitor. But she did concede to liking plays with two and three characters, comedies as well as straight dramas.

"Irma La Douce" is a show she might do during the summer and she recently starred in the British duo of "Private Eye, Public Ear." Tammy has yet to make her first movie and the studios will undoubtedly grab her off once she's available in Southern California.

This Funny World

WHEN JUNIOR plunges heroically into the sea to save a drowning man, Mom and Pop don't necessarily HAVE to be invited to a banquet honoring Junior for his deed.

At least, that's the substance of a decision reached last week by directors of Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce.

The whole business of who the chamber should honor—Junior or the folks—came up when Chamber Manager Peter Markovich read a letter from Daly City Police Chief Roland Petrocchi, noting that a third youth was involved in a day of rescues at Thornton Beach last April 12.

THE CHAMBER honored at a banquet two teen-agers who had rescued a Daly City brother and sister from the surf April 12. The youths' parents also were invited to the affair.

Petrocchi reported that also on April 12, Marty Lovrin of 157 Mariposa Drive, Daly City, rescued Michael Cronin of 220 St. Catherine Drive, Daly City.

He said that Al Serini of 1 Longview Drive, Daly City, should be given credit for giving artificial respiration to one of the near-drowning victims that day.

CHAMBER MEMBER Jack Kendree commented that he didn't think it was necessary for a "hero's" king to be invited to an award ceremony.

"He (the hero is the important one, not the parents," Kendree said.

He added leaving out relatives would cut down the expenses of honoring brave actions of Daly City residents, which members said could become considerable with an increasing number of people using Thornton Beach.

Other members agreed with Kendree. Junior, in effect, would have his day in the limelight—alone!

The 'National Schizophrenia'

Samuel Chandler

OUR CIVIL RIGHTS problem is a "national schizophrenia, which is violent and irrational," says Layhmond Robinson of The New York Times.

The pictures of this malady, that are being created by literary men from both races involved demand our attention. Some of these are chilling analyses; some are warnings of future agony; some take us into the lives of people caught in the crisis.

Among these is Ted Carroll's "White Pills," a novel which probes the ramification of achieving equality before men are ready to receive it. A pill that reduces pigmentation, wipes out color as a means of racial hatred, but not the attitudes of men.

"Just imagine — suppose you go to a party and meet — a white nigger;" we got a real problem — think what will happen if all of a sudden white niggers start moving into good neighborhoods."

TO TELL white Negroes from born whites, the Segregation Society devises a test based upon racial characteristics that are supposed to show in one's face, regardless of color.

The first victim of the misunderstanding that results is Sonny Calhoun, president of a local chapter of the "Society." Although he is the grandson of a Confederate general, he is robbed and beaten, even placed in jail, because his face does not pass that test.

The only person who befriends him is a blonde girl from New Hampshire who marries him and takes him out of the South. With her, he is happy until he discovers a bottle of "White Pills" in her bathroom. The results are horrible.

It is a hair-raising story picturing the motives and internal reactions of the characters. In the hands of some writers, it would have been a masterpiece, in Mr. Carroll's hands, it falls short of greatness. Yet "White Pills" contains a message for consideration.

A LESS SATISFACTORY book is Irving Wallace's novel, "The Man." It is the story of a Negro senator who is whirled into the presidency by an accident that kills the president and vice president. As long as he takes orders from his all-white cabinet, he is unmolested.

But when he acts contrary to them, he is forced to endure every cruelty that society can inflict. His trial for impeachment makes Andrew Jackson's ordeal look like a birthday party.

Like most of Mr. Wallace's stories, it is based upon a vast amount of research but it fails to develop characters great enough to match the situations in which they are placed. It is a story of suspense and tragedy — a picture of America as a stable where human rights are denied.

THE BIOGRAPHY of Frank E. Smith, "Congressman from Mississippi," illustrates the reaction of the South to the 1954 Supreme Court ruling. It shows how demagogues can be elected to office and good men retired. More than this it shows a thoughtful Southerner who has made a great and dire discovery.

"Because race is the beginning and the end of every issue in the deep South, the net effect of race politics is that the people of the South have disfranchised themselves . . . few Southerners seem to recognize the irony of their own position: that to keep Negroes from having any political power, they have given up their own political power."

Among the hundreds of books of non-fiction about Civil Rights problems, these are significant: Stanley Fleishman and Sam Rosenwein, "The New Civil Rights Act — What It Means to You"; "White and Black," by Samuel Lubell; "To Be Equal," by Whitney M. Young Jr.; Ginsberg's and Eichner's "The Troublesome Presence," and Thomas F. Pettigrew's "A Profile of the Negro American."

Louanne's Datebook

By LOUANNE HEATH

AUGUST IS rapidly drawing to a close and with its demise it is evident that the local social tempo is beginning to increase Already I have received word of many fall functions on the schedule for the coming weeks. Several groups are already well into plans for activities for September and October and such information signals that it is time for Datebook to set aside its summer format and resume its function of keeping you informed of what is current in the local social whirl.

Next week, this column will again be devoted to the individuals and groups that are making social news. Let's hope I'll be talking to many of you very soon!

☆ ☆ ☆ ☆

TODAY we'll wind up the review of local organizations with a glimpse into the functions and plans of Daly City Navy Mothers' Club 929. A club with only five months of history, it has a wide horizon before it.

Founded in September 1964 by a group of determined and dedicated women, it struggled through formative stages prior to its official institution in February of 1965. Mrs. Lenore Jenner of San Jose was the club organizer and Mrs. Lucille Jones of Daly City was the local contact mother.

Since officially joining the body of Navy Mothers' clubs, which stretch across this nation, the local unit has striven to achieve its goals, primarily a program of educational welfare and social interest for the mothers who have, or have had, sons or daughters serving in the Navy, Marine Corps or the Coast Guard.

The members are all mothers of service men or women and their interest extends beyond the welfare of those who are affiliated with the group and their own offspring. Every effort is made to encourage contentment, efficiency, patriotism and pride among the young men stationed at bases within this area.

Members help young men and women, away from home for the first time, find themselves. Frequently, members are able to assist young families seeking to hold their family units together despite frequent transfers and new and sometimes uncomfortable housing conditions.

MRS. JUANITA PERADA is the commander of the Daly City unit. She is assisted by Mrs. Ann Fernandez, finance officer, and Mrs. Catherine Horen, adjutant. With the help of the executive crew and many volunteers from the membership, the club was able to stage a successful rummage sale, which helped to defray the costs of installation and equipment. Mrs. Perada was the installing officer when the Pacifica Navy Mothers' Club was instituted early in the spring.

On Memorial Day, the members took a nostalgic cruise out past the Golden Gate Bridge and cast wreaths upon the Pacific in honor of the young men who have lost their lives at sea.

A current project is a foodless Food Sale that members hope will bring in funds enough to enable them to do something to cheer hospitalized servicemen and women and to help needy service families in this community.

According to Mrs. Lucille Jones, the membership is still small and therefore its benevolent efforts are still restricted by a lack of money. A membership drive is planned, however, and with more women working, it is the hope of the executive board that the club will be in a position to give aid whenever called upon.

If you would like to talk to Mrs. Jones and learn more about membership in this organization, call her during the evening at PL 5-1674.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR ZAMORA are hoping the weather has no more wild surprises in store for this week. They are hosting Judge and Mrs. John F. Sanchez and their sons, David, 14, and Gordon, 12.

The judge, who is with a district court in Denver, is Mrs. Zamora's brother, and a recent family gathering in Colorado resulted in the Zamora family witnessing more than enough "unusual" weather.

This is the Sanchez family's first visit to Daly City and they will remain about a week before heading south to tour Disneyland.

MR. AND MRS. L. F. REINECKE, the parents of Mrs. Peter Markovich, are visiting locally in the home of their daughter and son-in-law. The Reineckes make their home in Nebraska, Mrs. Reinecke is an active member of a Florence Crittenton Circle chapter as a result of her daughter's great powers of recruitment.

WHILE ON the subject of the Crittenton Circle, plans are being made for a luncheon, only for members who are current in their dues. It is scheduled for September 29.

Reservations and more information may be obtained by calling Mrs. TRISH SECCONI or Mrs. Jean Jabin.

THE YW-WIVES ended their summer schedule of meetings Thursday with an international luncheon in the social room of St. Martin's Episcopal Church in Daly City.

The occasion, a happy one, which saw all the members contributing one of their own special dishes to the cuisine, had some overtones of sadness. Mrs. Marcia McGuirk, staff advisor to the Wives, announced the end of her service in that capacity.

Attending the luncheon was Mrs. Eina Bis, newly-elected vice president of the club, and the lady she will be succeeding, Mrs. Nancy Ashton, who is moving to Marin.

Club President Mrs. Diane Panelli demonstrated the art of making enchiladas as members Etta Beller, Carrie Futtrell, Kay Van Der Vort, Mrs. Nancy Hart, Mrs. Ann Diaz, Mrs. Victoria Hilderbrand, Mrs. Paula Middlebrook and Mrs. Betty Elliott looked on in awe.

The group now has adjourned until the first meeting of the fall, set for September 16, when they will learn all about wigs. September 23, the ladies will tour the Spice Island plant in South San Francsco and September 29, Mrs. Ann Chituras, the educational manager of the Emporium in Stonestown, will speak on "How to Buy Your Husband a Christmas Present With Your Own Money."

D.C. Youngsters Give Proceeds of Carnival to CARE

A group of Daly City youngsters has raised $45 for CARE by sponsoring a neighborhood carnival for friends and neighbors.

The carnival was the idea of Bob Wagner of 78 Northgate, a seventh grade student at Benjamin Franklin School.

Youngsters ate hot dogs, popcorn and cookies, played ring toss, threw darts and spun a wheel of fortune. Prizes were donated by parents.

In addition to Wagner, the children who helped staff the carnival booths included Jeff, Peter and Terry Storm, Katie Herald, Jay Wagner, Ellen Saltzman, David Minetto and Dennis Kassis.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

After eating food containing sugar or carbohydrates, acid begins forming in your mouth. You should brush your teeth within fifteen minutes after eating before the acid has a chance to damage the enamel.

Use a toothbrush with a small head. Take time: give the toothpaste a chance to work.

Brush down on upper teeth. Brush up on lower teeth. Force bristles into spaces between the teeth while brushing inner and outer surfaces.

Use scrubbing motion when brushing the chewing surfaces.

If you cannot brush your teeth after eating, you should rinse your mouth thoroughly with water.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Generous Refunds, Free Coffee, Barney's Casino

WOW! THE NEW NEON SIGN AT BARNEY'S CASINO (South Shore) has to be one of the brightest and most colorful in the entire state of Nevada. It's even proving to be a "beacon light" for air and highway travel. Business at Barney's is double that of last year's at this time, What with many GREYHOUND BUS charters already booked for the winter months and hundreds of folks taking advantage of the daily Greyhound Bus schedules to Barney's, the coming season should also establish a new all-time high. Generous cash refunds on bus trips and free coffee 24 hours a day is a house policy. Open 24 hours a day . . . This is the final week for the SATELLITES swim musicrew at the GALAXIE. Opening next Friday night will be THE FRIARS, another redhot swim group of musicers from Hollywood . . . For a delish dish, try the Steak and Lobster Tail Half 'n' Half at PHIL LEHR'S—a gourmet treat!

HAVE BEEN A "FOLLOWER" AND dining room customer of the South San Francisco LEANING TOWER since its opening in 1955, when FRANCOIS ERCOLI, a famed San Francisco chef, and his son, JOE, took over. That was many "scaloppini days ago." Since then, many changes have taken place at this now well-established and well-patronized restaurant. The latest being a complete remodeling, featuring Italian Provincial decor, walnut panelling, with pastel walls, plush red carpeting, indirect amber lights, plus four elegant chandeliers which were imported from Italy. The bar is approximately 50 feet long—and during the lunch hour threee bartenders are on duty serving at top speed. The spacious dining rooom seats up to 150 persons; selective menu lists Italian and Continental food. One menu treat that especially catches my eye and appetite is the Chateaubriand (service for two), which also includes a Caesar Salad, and tabs out for just $9.75. Luncheon and dinner is served seven days a week. The Leaning Tower restaurant, bar, and cocktail lounge is under the supervision of host-owners JOE and LOUIS ERCOLI, with their father, Francois, paying occasional visits to look over the kitchen situation.

JANE MORGAN, a woman who could merely stand on the stage of HAROLD'S CLUB SEVENTH FLOOR FUN ROOM and attract a crowd with her beauty alone, is singing to SRO crowds nightly in Reno's biggest little showroom, where Harold's current show featuring harmonica-humorist JOHNNY O'BRIEN plays through August 22. Miss Morgan, backed by the music of DON CONNN, is deluged with applause at every introduction of her well-known recordings particularly "Fascination." The songs, which cover a span of five languages, need no translation when sung by Miss Morgan — the hand-holding she inspires is universal, whether in Harold's Club in Reno or another plush nitery on the Continent. Johnny O'Brien, a welcome "native" at Harold's, is a perennial favorite with Fun Roomers. The line by which he's identified, "It's possible. . . . ," continues to inspire guffaws.

ONE OF THE WEST'S GREATEST WATUSI SHOWS, "Go Go Galore," opened Monday night with a frantic rock 'n roll beat and "Go Go" dancing that will keep HOTEL SAHARA-TAHOE, one of the swingingest spots on the South Shore for months to come. The frantic pulsating beat comes from a group of young men known as THE PENDLETONS; credit dancing to the "Go Go Galore" kids. Dressed in black British apparel, the Pendletons open the new fast-paced revue with a sound that brings Aspen Grove Theater patrons to the edge of their seats in total captivation. The five young men, a la Beatles-style, keep the capacity crowd hand-clapping and foot-stomping for nearly 45 minutes while eight dancers go through the current U. S. craze dances — the jerk, the swim, the frug, the pony, and the watusi. Producer ART LEON and Choreographer RON STANTON have added a new dimension to the "Go Go" dance which is sweeping the nation. Comedienne SUE CARSON continues to tickle the funny-bone in Sahara-Tahoe's "Benvenuta Roma" revue with the funny pantomime experts from Paris, HELENE and HOWARD, and the PAUL STEFFEN DANCERS.

SHECKY GREENE, hard-hitting, fast-paced comedian, launches his own "Project Gemini" from Harvey's Resort Hotel, Lake Tahoe, August 20 through August 29. He'll be alternating with renowned recording artist, Jimmie Rodgers. Currently headlining in Harvey's Pavilion of the Stars: Rusty Warren, Barbara McNair, and Si Zentner. Continuous shows from 8:30 p.m. until 4:50 a.m. . . . Now appearing at the Crystal Bay Club, north end of Lake Tahoe, is one of the world's greatest singing performers, Miss Della Reese. Della has had leading engagements in the best hotels and theaters throughout the entire world, aside from many television shows and hit recordings. Sharing the spotlight with Della Reese in the new lounge at Crystal Bay Club are The Jets, Shecky Greene combining music and talent, remarkable vocal arrangements, and all 'round great entertainment. . . .

Della Cruz Is A "Solid" Giants Fan

Welllll, let me tell you, if the San Francisco Giants don't gift Della Cruz, vivacious waitress in the Benjamin Franklin Hotel Greenwillow dining room, with a bat, baseball cap, or a pair of sliding pads, they should. This gal is one of their greatest fans.

Whenever a game is on the radio, Della's table customers are score wise because she provides one for their pleasure.

I had a close call while breakfasting here, last Sunday morn. One of the Giants hit a home run just about the time I was to be served two soft boiled eggs. The excited Della made a sensational running back hand catch of the plate just before the eggs landed in my lap. This gal is really on the ball!

The Town Pipers Plus Two having a successful return engagement in Nero's Nook at the Palo Alto Cabana Hotel, while Lou Stevens and Trio continue with Friday and Saturday night dinner-dancing in the on Vivant Room.

If you're planning to attend the popular "Champagne Buffet a' the Cabana, reservations are suggested. Don't forget, we told you so!

"Critter From Mars" is the title of still another new novelty act at Finocchio's in San Francisco. It is an unusual dance specialty offered by Billy Graham in a costume and with an astonishing facial make-up giving his conception of what a Martian could look like, a very odd-looking critter, indeed, and just about the most dynamic dancer imaginable.

Customers Enjoy Jet Landing News At Castaway

Mike Pavelka, general manager of the Castaway restaurant (without a doubt, one of the most unique restaurants on the Peninsula), called my attention to the fact that the Castaway is in the direct flight path of incoming and outgoing planes. Mike has taken advantage of this and installed a set of earphones in the dining room so customers may hear the landing instructions from pilots to airport.

As if this wasn't enough, a new and nearby outdoor movie screen is also advantageous from a window-side table. The 26 eight-foot windows offer an unequalled view in restaurant dining.

Is it any wonder the Castaway serves to a full house for both luncheon and dinner? Suggestion: Be sure to make a reservation—it will save a short table wait.

Scotty Campbell's A 'Food Tradition'

You are sure to enjoy your dinner visit at Scotty Campbell's. Of added interest, the many antiques that former-owner Scotty collected through the years—from knight's armor to rare paintings.

Scotty Campbell's has been a "food tradition" on the Peninsula since the horse and buggy days—and still is. Dinner served seven days a week; evening entertainment.

Pre-curtain theater-dinners have caught on in great style at the Brentwood Lodge. This fine restaurant is just minutes away from the Peninsula and San Francisco entertainment.

The Bay Area's newest discotheque, "Satisfaction," will swing into action at the San Francisco Hilton on Tuesday, August 31, hosted by two experienced discothequers—Mimi London and Russell MacMasters, under the auspices of the hotel's general manager, James P. Duchscherer.

To quote J. Edgar Hoover after his dinner at Omar Khayyam's restaurant: "A great dinner with a most gracious host George Mardikian, which makes him a G (Grand) Man."

Sushil Kakar, manager and host of the excellent Taj of India restaurant, will be happy to help you select a wine to complement the dinner of your choice.

Vienna Watkins, Bridal Consultant at the Palo Alto Cabana Hotel, sends a special invitation to future brides to stop by and let her help you plan the wedding reception. The Cabana Hotel's beautiful surroundings, plus all the extra services.

TO DEVELOP PLAN

County Transit Team Selected After 5-2 Vote

An engineering-research team headed by George S. Nolte Company by Palo Alto was tentatively selected by the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority Monday night to develop a master transit plan for San Mateo County.

The resolution naming the team makes the selection subject to "execution of a proper contract, including feasible financial arrangements."

Authority directors took only one secret ballot to select the Nolte team by a 5 to 2 vote, although one director wanted three of the four teams considered as a means for the district to get the best price possible.

Included on the team with the Nolte firm are De Leuw, Cather and Comany, a worldwide engineering and transportation planning firm, and Stanford Research Insititute, a nonprofit research organization. The Nolte Company has completed several traffic studies in San Mateo County and throughout the state.

As board members launched into the selection discussion Monday night, Director Micheal De Bernardi urged that before a decision was made, the Authority should negotiate with the other teams "in order to get the best price for the county of San Mateo."

"Three out of four are tops," DeBernardi said. "It gets back to a price . . . let's set back to what we want done and negotiate a price, delineate what we want."

Chairman William R. Lawson reminded that the board had established a procedure to select a team it thought the best and negotiate a price.

Director William Werder noted that if the cost negotiations with the Nolte team are not satisfactory, "we have the other three right in the wings."

Director James V. Fitzgerald concurred, stating that the board should select the number one team "subject to price and scope."

DeBernardi reminded that the scope had not been determined.

"We've adopted a procedure and we're obligated," interjected Lawson. "We can't change rules in the middle of the game."

"We're not playing a game now," replied DeBernardi.

"I think you're playing a game," shot back Lawson.

There was no second to DeBernardi's motion on the negotiation proposal, and the board went ahead with the secret ballot in which the Nolte team received five votes and the team of Wilsey, Ham and Blair—Cloverdale and Colpitts—Sverdrup and Parcel received two votes.

John Lilly, general manager for the Authority, said that the scope of the transit study will be established during the next two to three weeks by representatives of the County Planning Department, the County Engineer, the project engineer, and special counsel, with assistance of planning groups from the Association of Bay Area governments and the Bay Area Transportation Study.

The board split a second time Monday night, voting 4 to 3 to hold all of its future meetings in the afternoon rather than continue the present policy of holding the first meeting of the month on the first Monday at 3:30 p.m. and on the third Monday at 7:30 p.m. All regular meetings will be held in the future at 3:30 p.m. in Room 101 of the County Office Building in Redwood City.

Werder moved for the daytime sessions, noting that during the 90-ay trial period of alternate day and night sessions the attendance of spectators had not varied by more than one person.

When the Authority gets more involved in the transit studies and in special subjects of interest to a greater number of persons meetings can be held in sections of the county affected, Werder suggested.

Fitzgerald suggested, and other board members concurred, that once the district policy is established, a night meeting be scheduled to permit a hearing to "let the public know where we're going."

Voting against the meeting time change were directors DeBernardi, George Argiris and Howard Looney.

Description Of Job Form Is Reviewed

Roger Barthuli, who will succeed Dr. David Shapiro as assistant superintedent in charge of business affairs for the Jefferson Elementary School District, was introduced to the Board of Trustees Monday night.

He will act as a consultant to the district until he officially assumes his duties October 1.

One of Barthuli's first tasks with the district has been to work with a committee of administrators and employes to draw up a sample job description that would be needed for the reclassification of non-teaching employes.

Trustees have discussed the need for reclassification and have withheld a decision on a pay increase until a study of job classifications is completed.

The job description would be based on a questionnaire and standards for each position. A sample has been passed among employees and has met with their approval, trustees were told Monday night.

Frank Greenwood, the district's special consultant until he becomes superintendent, said that under the district's present system, a job is set up, then "you change personnel and change function and before you know it, any relationship between the job classification and what the employee is doing is purely accidental."

He said there will be a complete evaluation of district employees and their performances.

Trustee Peter Galiano asked if this evaluation would correct inequities. He also asked about the possibility of gross mis-classification.

Greenwood replied that older employees would not suffer from new classifications as they would only affect new personnel.

A dual health plan for employees again was discussed Monday night but trustees did not reach a decision on a plan.

Trustees appointed a committee to study the issue. The committee will include two employe representatives.

Greenwood suggested that the committee write specifications and submit them to insuror companies so that the district could then follow a course of action.

The board has been discussing health insurance for employes for several months.

28 N. County Students Named to Honor Society

Twenty-eight North County students have been named to the College of San Mateo chapter of Alpha Gamma Sigma, the state junior college honorary society.

The honor was accorded on the basis of the students' work during this year's spring semester.

Membership in the society is limited to those students who maintain a B average or better in 12 or more course units. They must have a minimum of 15 grade points and no grade lower than a C.

Two of the 28 North County students recorded straight-A averages. They are Gail K. Bahr and Jorgen Ole Vindum of Pacifica.

Here are the other students named to the chapter:

Daily City—Daniel G. Braun, Raymond Coleman Jr., William F. Frenzel, Steven Guerrettas, John R. Heinbockekl, Joyce Higgins, John C. Hodgekiss, Lanette S. Howard, Luzanne T. Lumardi, S. Mountokalakis, Bill G. Williams and Lowell D. Williams.

Pacifica—Richard J. Barott, Marianne G. Becker, Randall E. Brubaker, Maryann Bukenhofer, Elsie B. Givson, Gary A Prince, Frederica Siebert, and Robert F. Simons.

South San Francisco—Judith L. Bretz, Virginia G. Church, Valerie A. Dorris, Patricia F. Ayall, Gayle D. Mafford and David O. Stevenson.

Resources of Firm Increase

Peninsula Savings and Loan Association resources rose to $83,161,154 as of June 30, a gain of 33.14 per cent over June 30, 1964 according to Edward H. Durkee, president.

Real estate loans increased by $18,403,667 to $74,325,466. Savings are up to $61,234,462. A record total of $1,433,975 interest was paid to savings account holders of Peninsula Savings during the first six months of 1965.

S.S.F. Backs Callan Plan

South San Francisco Councilmen last week approved Caesar-Callan Homes' latest planned unit development in Westborough.

In a brief adjourned meeting, they approved a recommendation on the development from the Planning Commission.

Council approval was reportedly hurried by the developer's desire to keep construction employes working rather than lay them off temporarily, and by the planners.

By NELL NORTON

CASSEROLES are a great favorite in my family and it's a good thing for I love making them and am forever gathering up recipes for new casserole dishes. Since Mexican food is also a favorite, this recipe for an enchilada casserole was a great success with us.

ENCHILADA CASSEROLE

1 medium onion
2 Tbsp. salad oil
2 lbs. ground beef
1 can corn, with pimento and green pepper
½ teaspoon each, rosemary, oregano and marjoram
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons pepper
2 cans tomato sauce
1 can enchilada sauce
12 tortillas
½ lb. sharp Chedder cheese, sliced

Saute onion in oil. Add beef and brown. Stir in the corn and spices. Combine sauces. Pour half this mixture over the meat, simmer for five minutes. In the bottom of a shallow casserole, 9x13x2-inches, arrange six tortillas.

Pour meat mixture over top and arrange half of cheese over meat. Cover with remaining tortillas and rest of cheese. Pour the rest of the sauce over all. Cover and bake in moderate oven, 350-degrees, about 20 minutes. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

This casserole served with garlic bread and a tossed salad is a wonderful meal. And since it makes such a large amount, it's perfect for a gathering.

Engagement Announced

Diane Louise Rasmussen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Rasmussen of Colma, and Richard Lee Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lahr of Loma Mar, have announced their engagement.

The bride-to-be is a graduate of Westmoor High School and the House of Charm Modeing School. She plans to attend the College of San Mateo in September.

Her fater is a historical researcher and author of books and articles on early San Francisco.

The groom has attended the College of San Mateo.

The couple plan to announce a wedding date later.

Culture Is Boosted By Musicians

The 100 members of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra made a broad and many-faceted contribution to Northern California's cultural life, according to a recent survey.

Musicians not only play in almost 100 orchestral performances but also give recitals, perform with other musical organizations, appear on radio and television programs and teach in area schools and colleges.

As an example, the survey points out, the San Francisco Conservatory of Music boasts many symphony musicians on its staff. Many teach privately as well.

The typical musician in the San Francisco Symphony, according to the survey, has lived in the Bay Area for 26.2 years and has performed with the orchestra for 13 seasons, playing more than 1,000 concerts before more than 2½-million people.

More than half of the orchestra's members have also given recent recital programs. Another 25 per cent play in small ensembles such as the Philharmonia Quintet, San Francisco Percussion Ensemble, Lenox String Quartet, Marin Arts Quartet, Camera Brass Quintet, Mills Performing Group, and the Pacific Brass Ensemble.

Almost all of the musicians of Young Audiences Inc., are members of the orchestra. Most play with other major orchestral groups; a large percentage of the opera, summer pops, and Stern Grove orchestras also are San Francisco Symphony musicians.

Women's Council To Work on Hats For 'Yule' Event

Members of the Bethel Church of Pacifica's Women's Missionary Council will hold their monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the church at Higgins Way and Adobe Drive in the Linda Mar area of Pacifica.

The council will work on hats to be featured in a hat parade presented at the group's annual Christmas in September program September 26.

The hats will be made from articles used by Indians.

Each hat will be designed either by a two-person team or by only one person.

Mrs. Ruth Ullner will offer a special devotion at the meeting. Refreshments will be served.

Bayshore P-TA Seeks Members

Plans for a membership drive were discussed by the board of directors of the Bayshore P-TA at a board meeting.

The drive will have a space-age theme, according to P-TA officials. Members of a drive committee are Mrs. Fred Pajkos, Mrs. Ernest Raffo and Mrs. Jay Modglin.

Awards will be presented to classrooms whose students interest the highest number of parents to join the P-TA.

Sisterhood to Discuss Plans For Hot Buffet

The Sisterhood of Congregation B'nai Israel will hold a membership meeting at 8:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Irving Mutnick at 178 Northridge Drive, Daly City.

Mrs. Gary Papelbaum, president of the Sisterhood, will preside.

Members will discuss plans for another membership meeting at 8 p.m. Monday, September 20, at the Lake Merced Boathouse. A hot buffet dinner will be served.

Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. Mutnick at PL 6-0915.

The Sisterhood's first fund-raising project of the fall season will be a Simchas Torah dinner and auction October 16 in the new temple house at 1575 Annie Street.

Mrs. David Barry Honored By Club

Members of the Daly City Senior Citizens Club last week honored Mrs. David Barry, the former Geraldine Podesta, who is a recent bride. She is the Daly City Recreation Department's representative to the club.

Mrs. Ann Eason baked a wedding cake for the occasion. Club members heard that their roster has reached a total of 48 persons.

'HIGH RISK' GROUPS

Vaccine Shots Urged for Flu

The San Mateo County Health Department has issued a bulletin recommending that all "high risk" groups begin influenza vaccine shots as soon as possible after September 1 in view of the anticipated increase in Type B influenza in this area and throughout the U.S. this coming winter.

The notice made it clear that the department is not recommending influenza vaccination for the general public "because of uncertainty about the effectiveness and because reactions may sometimes be almost as severe as the disease itself."

Additionally, the influenza experienced in recent years is not a serious illness in otherwise healthy individuals, but for those "high risk" groups who suffer excess mortality in every influenza epidemic, such vaccination is deemed advisable.

The "high risk" group referred to includes the following:

Persons of all ages who suffer from chronic debilitating disease such as cardiovascular, pulmonary, renal, or metabolic disorders; older age individuals, notably those over 65; patients in nursing homes and chronic disease hospitals.

Further, it is reported some increased mortality was observed among pregnant women in the last 1957-58 influenza A epidemic, but this has not been demonstrated in recent years.

If given, vaccination should begin as soon as possible after September 1 and ideally should be completed by mid-December.

Those not vaccinated since July 1963 should receive an initial dose followed by a second dose two months later. Those vaccinated since July, 1963, only need a single booster shot.

The anticipated increase in influenza is based on the fact that the disease occurs in two to three-year cycles.

Fitzgerald Gets Post

County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald was selected by his fellow supervisors last week as San Mateo County's first appointee to the new San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

The commission was established in the recently passed McAteer Bill aimed at a study of ramifications of filling of the bay.

Three additional members of the commission will be appointed from San Mateo County by the Association of Bay Area Governments.

"UNDER 21"
Charge Account
FOR Boys 15 and Over!

"Under 21" Charge Accounts open up a whole new world of serious thinking and planning for boys of junior high through college age. These accounts are designed to give youngsters a feeling of increased responsibility as well as freedom in the choice of things they buy for themselves and for gift occasions.

"Under 21" Charge Accounts are available to any boy 15 or older. We will contact the parent or guardian at the time the account is opened but the account is in the name of the boy and the bills are sent directly to him. He pays for his own clothes out of his regular earnings and allowances.

Parents will welcome "Under 21" Charge Accounts because they help teach boys to realize the importance of getting the best possible value for the money they spend. Students will learn to rely on their own judgment . . . and, of course, they will always be offered shopping guidance by The New England Shop's experienced salespersons.

There are many advantages in having your own "Under 21" Charge Account, and we think your parents will approve of your becoming customers of a store with a reputation established by many years of service to the youth of the North Peninsula.

All boys 15 or over are invited to apply for "Under 21" Charge Accounts at The New England Shop. Come to our store, or mail this coupon to The New England Shop for complete information and an Under 21" Charge Account application.

Something to Watch at the S.F. Airport

By GEORGE GOLDING

SOMETHING new to watch has come to San Francisco International Airport.

It is called a hovercraft, because it neither flies nor floats but sort of does both.

Called a "jet skimmer" by San Francisco Oakland Helicopter Airlines, the hovercraft went into service last week between Oakland and other Bay Area points. (One of them had engine trouble and floated on the Oakland estuary for about an hour.)

The flights can best be seen from the row of seats facing the rear of the South Terminal just behind the magazine stand, or from the waiting area near Gates 55 and 56 on Pier F.

SUDDENLY, it appears, churning along the water at the south end of the longest north-south runway jetty, and sweeping in toward a blackened patch of airfield-edge due south of the terminal's Pier E.

The craft at first looks like a wide, wide PT boat, with a white-water wake all around.

It slows, and moves toward the edge of the field, where the shore slopes fairly steeply into the bay, between the runway jetty and the Millbrae shore.

As the air cushion craft hits the beach, it is for a moment like a stumbling army tank, clumping awkwardly up the slight incline and raising an all-around cloud of dust while hiking one end, then the other, over the ridges of drainage areas around the field.

THEN IT IS on the airfield itself, treated by the control tower as a ground car, crossing the runways and keeping to the approach roads.

There, it displays its hybrid nature. Without full power on its pusher propellor, the hovercraft apparently has little directional stability and behaves somewhat like a powered skateboard, or a china plate on a floor covered with marbles.

A slight cross wind makes it skate along the runway sideways, traveling in a straight line but facing a different direction. It is like a sailboat tacking into the wind, only the craft itself is its sail.

The blue and white craft looks like something a child would draw, or like something out of a science fiction magazine sketch.

The newest of all methods of transportation, it is a combination of tourist party boat, airplane, and helicopter.

SPLIT A PT boat's height, widen it, seat it on a surrounding dark grey apron that looks more like a huge inner tube, give it twin airplane tails and a pusher propellor for guidance, then top the whole creation with a running light from some friend's yacht. That's about it.

It is produced by Bell Aircraft, which built the World War II P-39, but is a far cry from that sleek Aircobra.

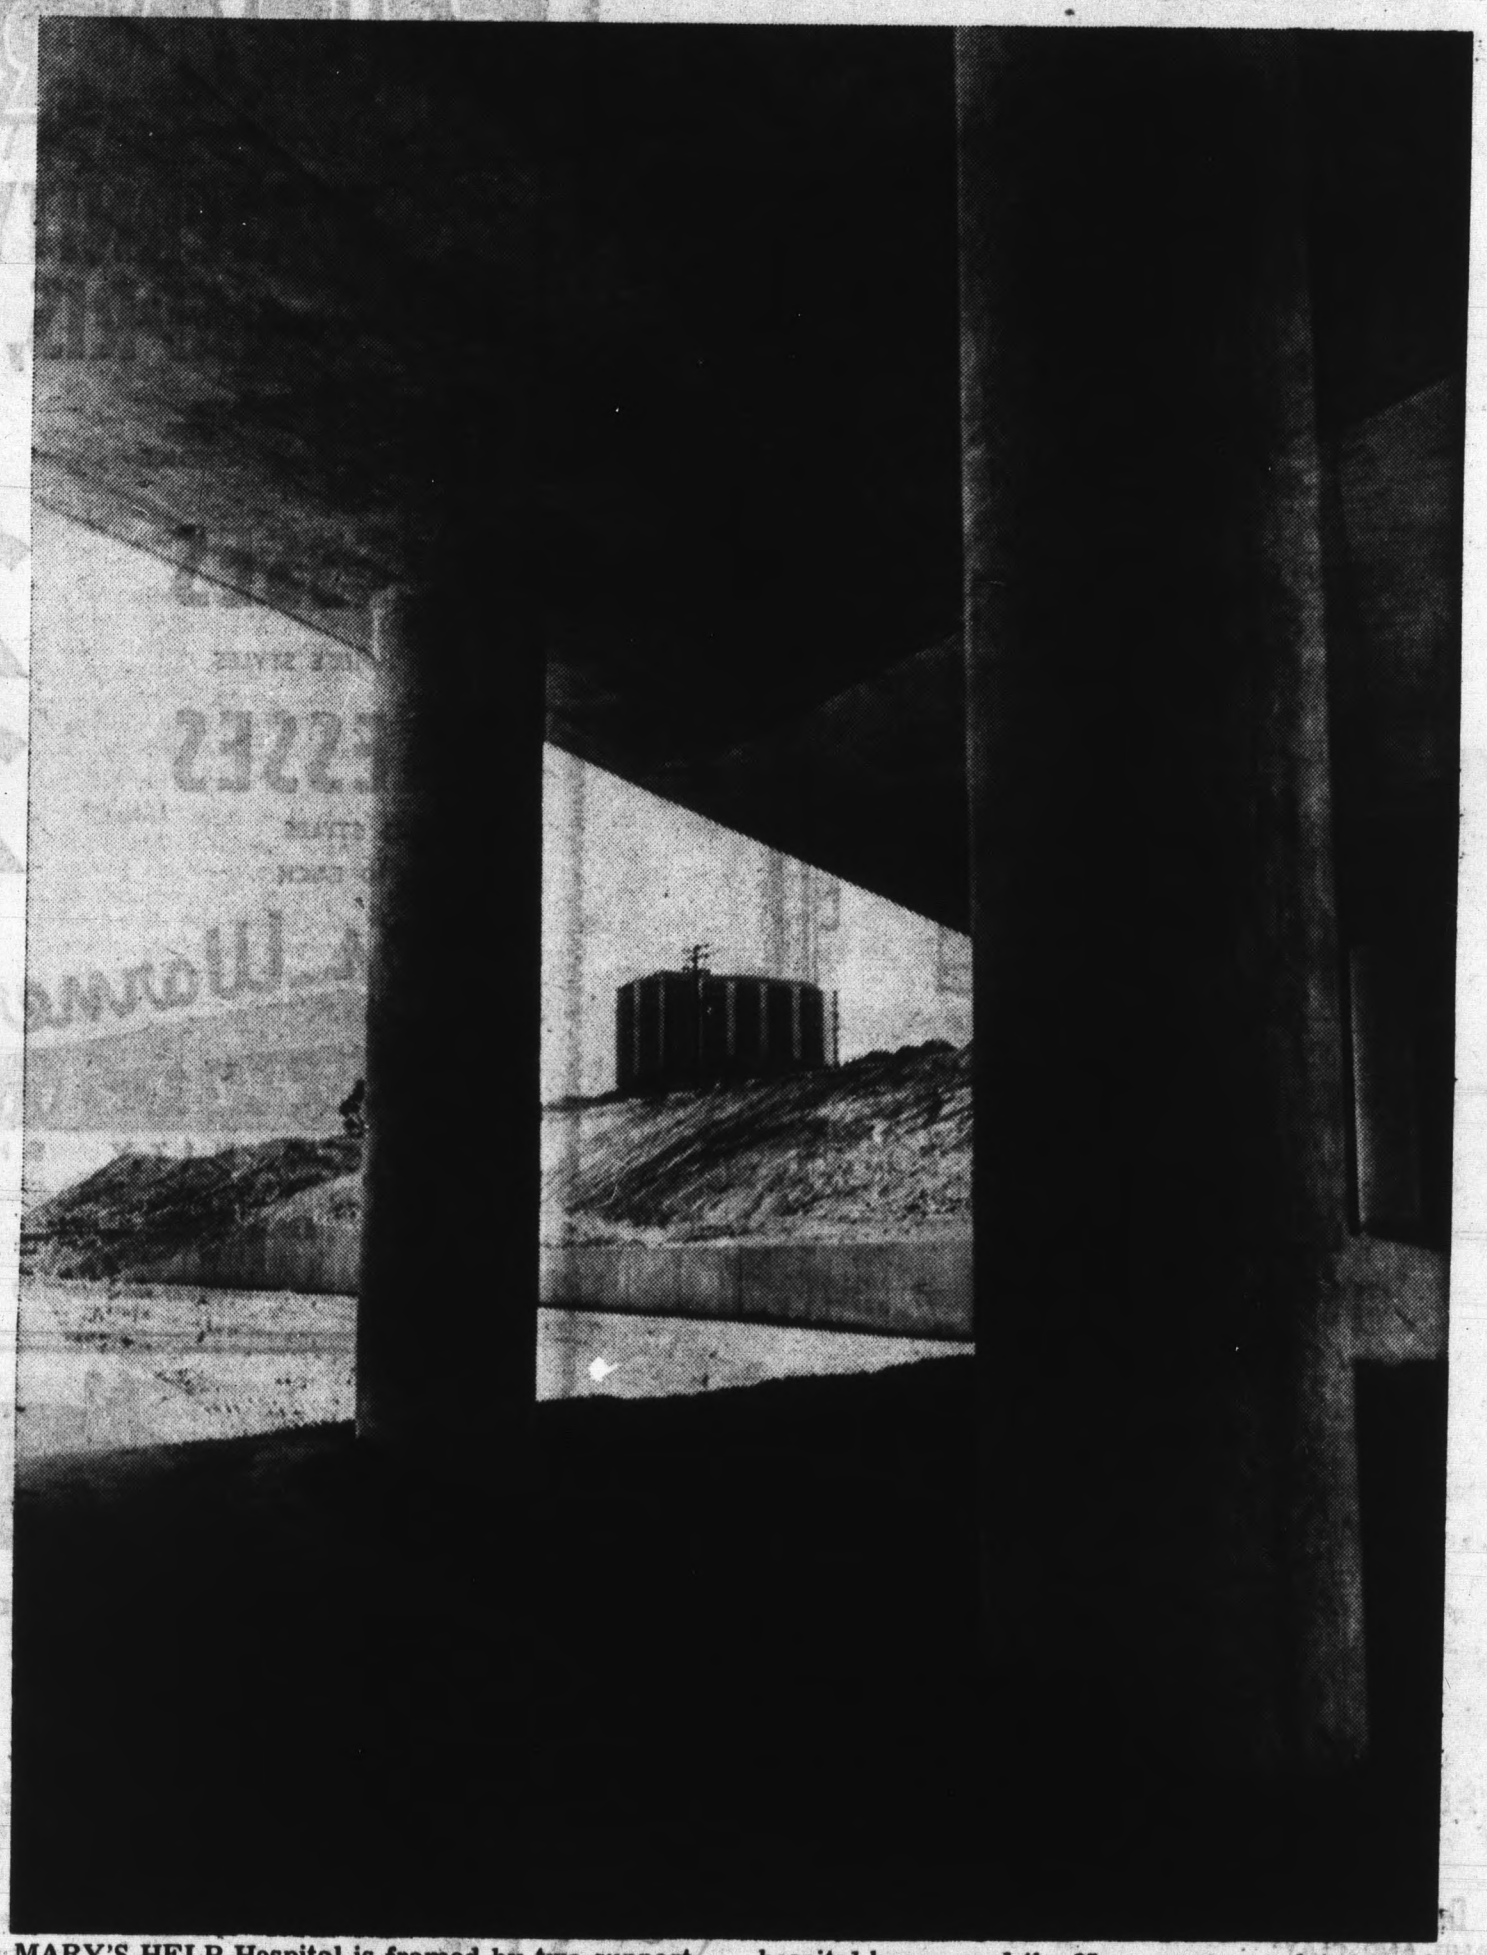
As the hovercraft crosses the aircraft parking apron toward Gate 56 of Pier F, it seems as much under control as it did in the water, then the engines shut down, the craft sinks on her (his, its?) apron, a nose door opens, and people step out.

When the new passengers are loaded, the engines again blast air downward to create a cushion, and the craft rises back end first, like a cow, and skids off across the runway.

As the blue and white skimmer disappears among a field rampant with sleek Boeing 707s and 727s, an airline pilot shakes his head disbelievingly, and makes one comment:

"That is somethin' else."

A New Hospital and a New Freeway



MARY'S HELP Hospital is framed by two supporting pillars and the understructure of an overpass carrying Eastmoor Avenue traffic over the Junipero Serra Freeway, now under construction in Daly City. Mary's Help officials have reported that the hospital has passed the 95 per cent completed mark and that a dedication ceremony will probably be held early in December. The hospital is now located on Guerrero Street in San Francisco.

Resources Team Gains Six More Members

San Mateo County's newly-formed Human Resources Commission was increased from 19 members to 25 last week by the County Board of Supervisors.

Recommendation for the increase came from County Manager E. R. Stallings following a conference with the Federal Office of Economic Opportunity.

First appointee to the enlarged commission was Mrs. Harriett Rucker, 5 Turtlebay Place, San Mateo, who was one of four persons recommended to the board for consideration by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

An increase in membership was proposed to include representatives of poverty areas in the county and of major Negro American organizations in the county.

At last week's board meeting, supervisors turned down a request from the Rev. Carl A. Smith, director-co-ordinator of the Mid-Peninsula Christian Ministry, East Palo Alto, that the commission membership be increased from 12 to 15 members from the county's poverty areas.

TOOLS STOLEN

William Maxwell of 1268 South Mayfair Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that hand tools had been stolen from the rear of a pickup truck, parked in front of his residence.

Cora S. Janik of 725 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, reported to police last week that two evening dresses, valued at $60, had been stolen from her auto, parked in a carport.

S.M. Health Home Questions Aid Bid By Welfare Group

THE BOARD of directors of the Children's Health Home for Mentally Retarded Children and Adults in San Mateo, last week dispatched a letter to the county board of supervisors raising further critical issue with the county welfare department's proposal to seek some $781,979 from the federal government to create a major training workshop program, under Title V of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

The directors ask for an opportunity to be heard on the issue at the next meeting of the supervisors.

Signed by President Howard Miller, the letter states the board of directors urge a "most meticulous study in view of the huge sum involved; the size of the undertaking, meaning great expansion of county welfare services; the possible duplication of existing services, and the possible adverse effect on local industrial-labor relations.

THE QUERY from the Health Home directors raises a series of pointed questions.

It is noted that a meeting between the Home's representatives, county welfare officials and members of the Citizens' Advisory Committee last June 28 "did not provide satisfactory answers in regard to the feasibility of the proposal for this county."

Largely, it is feared the development of a vast work experience program with a major training facility will impinge on contracts now going to organizations such as the Children's Health Home.

It is stressed the county may wind up paying 50 to 100 per cent of the cost, after the initial 90-10 per cent split between the federal and local government, if the program becomes a permanent part of the county welfare program.

OVERLAPPING of the Economic Opportunity Act provision into areas under the jurisdiction of the Human Resources Commission and into the Neighborhood Youth Corps program is emphasized.

Additionally, the following questions are asked:

"The county is apparently going to apply for $10,000 in federal funds for 'travel.' Why is such a sum necessary?

"Is not the hiring of a consultant on a contractual basis at $100 per day an excessive expenditure? Is it economical to request $75,000 per year to transport trainees to a central workshop:

"Is not the county entering into manufacturing by considering establishment of a vocational workshop on such a scale? What will be the effect on local small industry which might otherwise assume such subcontractual work?

"What will be the effect on local sheltered workshops whose physically and-or mentally handicapped trainees compete for the same type of sub-contracts?

"Why should the work training program for the culturally and economically deprived individuals require they be trained by sub-contract work when such people could learn from on-the-job and from courses teaching manual and academic skills?

"Why isn't the vocational instruction tailored to fit the specific employment needs of local business and industry? To what extent does involvement of recipients of Aid to Needy Disabled affect enrollees at Children's Health Home Sheltered Workshop? Approximately one-half of the trainees are eligible for this assistance.

"Would they continue as Children's Health Home trainees or would the county assume their training?

"Is the county now paying its enrollees in the county workshop? Should not the federal regulations that no wages below the legal minimum be paid to a handicapped employe, also apply to the county workshop?

"If the enrollees in the county workshop are now paid on a basis of work credits applied to their assistance benefits, is this a legal and-or professional approach to their remuneration?

"What plan has been submitted by the East Palo Alto community which makes the subject proposal a component part of a community action program?

"Is it correct to assume that some of the Home Health Aides to be trained will be employed to assist cases now receiving county general assistance? If so, is not such a procedure increasing the county welfare rolls? Will the personnel employed for this program become p e r m a n e n t county employes?"

Marines Set Changes for Enlistments

Numerous changes in the enlistment programs and enlistment requirements for the U. S. Marine Corps have been announced by Major A. P. McMillan, officer in charge of Marine Corps Recruiting in Northern California.

Applicants may now enlist for two years of active duty. The height requirement has been changed to a five-foot, two-inch minimum.

Former Marines may retain their old rank if they re-enlist within one year from discharge date.

Aviation duty guarantees still require a four year enlistment period.

Further information and applications may be obtained from Recruiter Sgt. James Thomas at 6702 Mission Street, Daly City. His phone is 756-1776.
